

Prof. Susanne Stenbacka, Uppsala University

Susanne Stenbacka is a Professor of Human Geography at Uppsala University. Her research evolves around regional development and rural transformation with a specific focus on gender relations, migration and welfare. Her current studies deal with refugee migration to rural areas, rural transformation in the aftermath of police withdrawal and rural experiences of disability.