Sexual violence

Non verbal

- Staring / Ogling
- Taking pictures
- Indecent gestures

Verbal

- Commenting
- Catcalls
- Sexual invites

Physical

- Touching / Groping
- Stalking
- Sexual Assault
- Rape

Sexual violence is an entire spectrum of abuse. Yet we tend to ignore the verbal and nonverbal abuse, deeming them to be too “trivial”, when in fact it can be equally debilitating to many, limiting their choices, movements and affecting mental health.

- SAFECITY crowdmaps personal experiences of sexual violence in public spaces.

- This is aggregated as location based trends and visualised as hotspots on a map.

- The aim is to make public spaces SAFE and equally accessible to all through

  - Individual awareness

  - Community engagement

  - Institutional accountability

Bridging the Digital Divide in Satara district

Impact of the Project

- We added Marathi as a language
- Gave the Police Patil a mobile phone and trained her how to use it
- Women now use technology to report sexual violence = Ease in reporting
- Initially no reports but later the reports came in through the drop box, through discussions and drawings and there was confidence in reporting
- Girls who had dropped out of school, returned to continue their education
- Right to the Freedom of Movement
- Well versed in legislation = Empowerment
- Engaging Men and Boys
- Involvement of the CBO and local NGOs
